

ITES-2S— Information Technology Enterprise Solutions-2S

A New Army in the New Millennium

Today's Army is facing unparalleled challenges. The September 11, 2001, attack on the United States changed the traditional definition of war. The full mobilization of resources—appropriate during World War II and the Cold War years—is ineffective against acts of terrorism and those who engage in them. The Army is undergoing a massive transformation to help it successfully fight this new adversary. It is evolving from a legacy division model into smaller, modular, deployable, and self-sustaining units. A trusted partner can support the Army in this endeavor at all levels, from stateside to forward deployed overseas.

Booz Allen—a Trusted Partner
