How to Procure Booz Allen Hamilton Services Through DHS GSA Strategic Sourcing BPA

What is DHS GSA Strategic Sourcing BPA?

The DHS GSA Strategic Sourcing Initiative is a multiple award blanket purchase agreement (BPA) under the GSA Financial and Business Solutions (FABS) schedule. The scope encompasses accounting, budgeting, and complementary financial management services. It's a vehicle that can be used to help DHS achieve improved performance, quality, timeliness, and efficiency of its financial programs.

What are the functional categories and capabilities under this BPA?

Under this BPA, Booz Allen will provide the following support capabilities to DHS:

- Accounting: Analyzing processes and summarizing transactions; assisting in devising new or revised accounting policies and procedures; and performing special studies to improve accounting operations.
- Budgeting: Assessing and improving budget formulation and execution processes; conducting special reviews of budget formulation or execution issues; and reviewing budgetary controls.
- Complementary Financial Management Services: Assessing and improving financial management systems; conducting A-127 compliance reviews; identifying system requirements; assisting in improving and streamlining reporting and analysis processes; performing cost-benefit or other special financial analyses; and assisting with strategic and operational financial planning.

Booz Allen has been awarded a strategic BPA allowing DHS to procure accounting, budgeting, and complementary financial services quickly and easily. We take pride in bringing strong functional capabilities in conjunction with business domain knowledge and deep technology experience to our assignments. We also strive to provide opportunities for small business concerns under this BPA. Booz Allen's commitment is to deliver results that endure to DHS.

The Booz Allen Team: Expertise in Resource and Financial Management, Risk Management and Compliance, and Business Operations Improvement

Booz Allen has decades of experience supporting resource and financial management and accounting operations in civilian, defense, and intelligence organizations. Our Resource and Financial Management professionals have real-world experience and understand financial planning; programming budget formulation and justification; defense budget allocation; execution and administration status tracking; performance measurement; risk management; accounting reconciliation and remediation; planning, programming, budgeting, and execution; and the Capabilities Programming and Budgeting System for the intelligence community.

Booz Allen's Risk Management and Compliance experts incorporate fresh perspectives and lessons learned from providing internal controls services to federal and commercial clients. Their extensive experience in Sarbanes-Oxley Act compliance and hands-on knowledge of federal financial management requirements and processes allow them to tailor controls for your financial operations. Our team's Risk Management and Compliance experts identify risk using a holistic view of risk and risk mitigation strategies; develop and evaluate internal control systems to address financial and operational risk; assess internal controls over financial reporting; optimize business process controls; comply with laws and regulations; remediate internal control deficiencies; and measure and manage operational and IT-related risks in organizations.

Booz Allen's Business Operations Improvement services include financial management service assessments, organization and workforce assessments, shared services design (centers of excellence), policy analysis, process analysis and improvement, systems assessments, strategic systems planning, implementation advisory services, and independent verification and validation services.
