Economic and Business Analysis (EBA)

Cost, Economic, and Financial Analysis Consulting

In today's world of leaner budgets and shrinking resources, government agencies are under mounting pressure to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of their financial management operations. Compliance with legislation, ongoing eGov initiatives, and other internal and external drivers are changing the face of the federal financial community and how it does business. Responsible stewardship and fiscal accountability are emphasized as never before.

Booz Allen can help you be ready for what's next

At Booz Allen Hamilton, a leading strategy and technology consulting firm, our Economic and Business Analysis (EBA) services staff understand the concerns that drive the need for financial services across the federal government. From the Chief Financial Officers Act to the Electronic Government Act, Booz Allen provides the cost, economic, financial management, and quantitative program control service required to Plan and Acquire, Manage and Control, and Evaluate and Report across the program life cycle.

Today's programs need cohesive teams of acquisition, functional, technical, and financial experts. Booz Allen provides EBA services that support the full spectrum of clients' needs. Clients can draw on Booz Allen's expertise at any time during the program or acquisition cycle—from concept and requirements definition to implementation and execution. The full range of our EBA services resides in an extended, networked team—ensuring that we have the right skills and staff for each client task.

What we do

Throughout Booz Allen, our EBA professionals are recognized as the Center of Excellence in the areas of cost estimating, economic analysis and accounting/financial management, and systems analysis. Composed of three core capability groups, Applied Economic Analysis (AEA), Integrated Financial and Resource Management (iFRM), and Quantitative Management Controls (QMC), our EBA staff employ multiple processes, models, and advanced tools to deliver consistent economic and business solutions.

- Applied Economic Analysis (AEA). Through our AEA service, Booz Allen helps government agencies optimize resource allocation decisions through cost, financial, and economic analysis. Supporting the analysis and decide phases of the money management life cycle, Booz Allen focuses on optimizing capability and acquisition development decisions by providing insight using Cost Estimating and Analysis, Capital Asset Management, Performance-Based Measurement and Valuation, and Applied Macroeconomic and Financial Analysis.
- Integrated Financial and Resource Management (iFRM). Through our iFRM service offering, Booz Allen offers comprehensive, enterprise-level financial management solutions that leverage people, process, and technology. Supporting the fund and procurement phases of the money management life cycle, Booz Allen focuses on fiscal planning, programming, budgeting, and execution and the systems that support these functions. iFRM is an integrated, solutions-focused approach with the objective of promoting responsible stewardship and fiscal accountability.

- Quantitative Management Control (QMC). Through our QMC service, Booz Allen offers a set of integrated planning and controlling functions that address program business planning and management requirements. QMC integrates upfront strategic planning with the ability to implement these services throughout the program life cycle. Supporting the monitor and control phases of the money management life cycle, Booz Allen focuses on contracting, earned value management, and performance reporting. QMC methodologies can be reevaluated and reapplied at key milestones across the program and project life cycle.

Our EBA staff's reputation for excellence is based on a steadfast commitment to client success, as well as:

- Demonstrated experience (nearly 40% of team members have 10+ years, nearly 65% of team members have 5+ years)
- Relevant expertise (more than 50% of team members hold graduate degrees, more than 35% of team members have professional certifications)
- Cleared staff and non-disclosure agreements (more than 45% of team members hold security clearances)
- State-of-the-art understanding of proprietary knowledge bases, processes, and intellectual capital

Over the years, various federal agencies have recognized Booz Allen for our leadership and honest-broker position in economic and cost analysis. Our commitment to our clients' missions and goals is evidenced by our dedication to understanding the specialized challenges now facing the government.
