Cooperating with Investigations, Litigation and Making External Disclosures Policy

SPONSORING ORGANIZATION: Ethics & Compliance

INTRODUCTION
Booz Allen is committed to operating our business with integrity and in compliance with laws in all countries where we do business. We cooperate fully with government and internal investigations and other government oversight related to our business. Employee cooperation with both internal and external investigations is required to maintain this integrity.

The purpose of this policy is to outline the firm’s protocols for cooperating with investigations, participating in litigation in a professional capacity and making external disclosures, and to set forth the requirements and contact points for employees to cooperate with investigations.

SCOPE
This policy applies to all employees, officers, directors, subsidiaries, and affiliates of the firm (referred to as “Booz Allen people”).

POLICY
An investigation is a process designed to gather information or collect facts. Investigations can be conducted by Booz Allen internally (which may include the assistance of outside counsel or other resources) or by external parties, such as government agencies. The objectives and scope of investigations vary widely, but their overriding purpose is to determine the relevant facts. This is accomplished by interviewing people, reviewing records and gathering data, information and documentation.

Internal investigations cover a wide range of issues and are typically initiated in response to specific allegations of misconduct or suspected irregularities. Although each investigation is unique and may be handled differently, all investigations are carried out in a fair and consistent manner. From time to time, the firm may be involved in investigations being conducted by external parties such as government agencies.

Booz Allen people must cooperate fully with any internal investigation the firm conducts and any external inspections, government oversight, investigations, and legal proceedings related to the firm’s business. The firm will not impede Booz Allen people from communicating or cooperating with a government agency in accordance with applicable laws and regulations.

External Investigations, Litigation and Inspections
When contacted by a government agency or any third-party that requests information or your participation in an investigation (e.g. appears to serve a subpoena or execute a search warrant) and/or legal proceeding (received a summons, called to appear in court) related to the firm’s business or your prior professional capacity, you must immediately contact the Litigation and Government Inquiries team.

In addition to contacting Litigation and Government Inquiries team, if you’re contacted directly by one of the following entities you must notify the corresponding Booz Allen Point of Contact below.

Cooperating with Investigations, Litigation and Making External Disclosures Policy
Effective Date: 11.09.2021 | Booz Allen External | 1 of 3
If you are contacted after hours, immediately notify the Crisis Response Hotline at 800-291-9955 US and 703-319-3487 Internationally and then contact the Litigation and Government Inquiries team.

When contacted by a government or third-party representative, you must ask them to provide valid agency or official identification. If you are uncertain about the identity of the representative, the investigation or the legal proceeding, contact the Litigation and Government Inquiries team for assistance.

Sharing Data with an External Investigator
Booz Allen people are prohibited from providing any documents or property (including laptops or any other firm-issued device) to a government investigator or third party without direct approval from the Litigation and Government Inquiries team. If asked for documents, data, and other materials related to any matter subject to investigation or legal proceedings, contact Litigation and Government Inquiries and ask the Government investigator to direct the request to the Litigation and Government Inquiries team. The Litigation and Government Inquiries team will respond to the requesting party directly. If a Booz Allen person works with classified information or holds a security clearance, a DSS representative may interview that person one-on-one to determine whether they understand and are following the rules governing the access to and handling of classified information. In these situations, Booz Allen people must notify Security Services immediately of any requests from DSS.

Internal Investigations
All internal investigations are conducted and/or overseen by the Legal Department and will be treated in a confidential manner to the greatest extent possible. Employees must cooperate fully with any internal investigation and provide accurate, truthful and candid responses and all relevant information and documents promptly. In the firm’s discretion, employees who report allegations of potential misconduct may receive periodic feedback or status reports, to the extent possible, within confidentiality requirements.

External Disclosures
Booz Allen complies with all applicable legal and regulatory disclosure and cooperation obligations that apply to its business, and Booz Allen people must cooperate with the firm when necessary to prepare a comprehensive disclosure. The Legal Department coordinates all the firm’s disclosures and cooperation with regulators, including properly disclosing and providing full cooperation to the government where it determines there is credible evidence of a violation of federal criminal law involving fraud, conflicts of interest, bribery, or gratuity violations; violations of the U.S. civil False Claims Act; or a significant overpayment under a U.S. federal contract. In addition, in coordination with the Legal Department, the firm complies with required disclosure obligations arising under the U.S. federal Anti-Kickback Act, anti-boycott and human trafficking statutes, and laws and regulations related to facility and personal security clearances and tax laws, among others. The Legal Department coordinates determinations of credible evidence and cooperation with the U.S. government on behalf of the firm.

REPORTING CONCERNS
We expect Booz Allen People to comply with our policies and promptly raise questions or concerns about our business and/or business practices. Violations of any Booz Allen Policy, including this one, will be addressed in accordance with our Discipline for Misconduct Policy.

We rely on Booz Allen people to report suspected violations of our policies and our Code of Ethics and Business Conduct. As outlined in our Mandatory Reporting and Non-Retaliation Policy, if you observe or have reasonable suspicion that a Booz Allen policy or the Code has been violated, you have a responsibility as part of your employment to promptly report your concerns by contacting any of the following firm resources:
