

HOW CAN SAILFISH HELP WORKFORCE ATTRITION?

CHALLENGE

Increasing employee attrition across a large international organization has led to leadership's desire to reassess current practices.

OPPORTUNITY

Identify target areas or groups of employees to increase overall satisfaction and reduce employee attrition.

ANALYTICS

Sailfish can ingest employee survey data to create telling visualizations detailing the current state of employee engagement. This empowers analysts to investigate relationships between various manager engagement measures and employee attrition.

RESULTS

Identify targeted market groups and company divisions with low attrition rates and high employee satisfaction in order to inform company strategies. Also, identify key manager behaviors that most contribute to attrition and satisfaction.
