

Kristine Martin Anderson

Chief Operating Officer

As chief operating officer, Kristine drives the execution of the company's strategy and operational priorities. Under her leadership, Booz Allen is accelerating and transforming as a leading advanced technology company.

Kristine has successfully built, scaled, and led high-performing technology businesses over her 35-year career. Since joining Booz Allen in 2006, she has rapidly advanced through various leadership roles. Before becoming chief operating officer in 2022, Kristine served as President of Booz Allen's Civil Sector, driving significant transformation and growth in the business. In her first twelve years at Booz Allen, she was a key leader in the company's Health market, leveraging her healthcare and technology expertise to steer that business through a major period of growth.

Prior to joining Booz Allen, Kristine was the vice president for operations and strategy at CareScience, a healthcare software company she helped create in 1992 and take public in 2000.

Kristine received the New Era of Leadership Award from Chief in 2025, and she was named one of WashingtonExec's Top Executives to Watch in 2024. In 2019, The Wharton Club of Washington, DC, honored Kristine with The Joseph Wharton Award.

Kristine holds an M.B.A. from The Wharton School of Business and a B.A. from the University of Pennsylvania.
